

DON'T WASTE OUR FUTURE

January 2015 – May 2017

OBJECTIVES

This project aimed to build a European alliance of youngsters against food waste and for new models of sustainable development and consumption in the framework of the European Year for Development 2015. The project intended to contribute to concrete behaviours change of the young generations, who are “today and tomorrow” consumers and future decision makers. The main idea was to involve youngsters not only as beneficiaries of the action, but above all to make them protagonists and awareness agents towards their families and other coetaneous.

ACTIVITIES & RESULTS

The main result of the project is the DWOF charter through which schools and local authorities commit to address food waste and the right to food through the following topics:

- Establishment of a steady curriculum within the formal educational system to provide education on responsible behaviours and fighting against food waste addressing young generations
- Empowering young generation and make youngsters peer to peer agents for responsible behaviours and fighting against food waste
- Increase the role of local authorities as policy makers and awareness agents for citizens in responsible behaviours and fighting food waste

As a partner, ACR+ participated in the steering committee, appointed experts for activities and settled agreements with relevant local actors and stakeholders. ACR+ also helped with the development of methods and materials and promoted in particular the DWOF charter on the fight against food waste.
