

Trifocal Seminar

June 14, Smock Alley Theatre, Dublin

Agenda

9:00	Networking breakfast & Registration
9.30	Opening Words
9:40	Welcome from EMWRO
9:45	Joyce Readings – Blooms Day & Food
10:00	Overview of TriFocal Project (Schools; community; Big employers)
10:20	Overview of Dublin activities
10:30	City Food Stories (Dublin highlights – Schools, Apts, SSC) Interview style with Chris Gordon)
10.50	Q&A
11:00	Milan Showcase
11:15	Burgas Showcase
11.30	Panel discussion
12:10	Q&A
12.25	Sum Up – using Graphic Recording Illustrations
12.30	Lunch

Themes/discussion points

- Why are cities different?
- What are the challenges for cities with food waste?
- What are the advantages of cities in respect to preventing food waste?
- What practices and systems do we need to disrupt to change the amounts of food wasted?
- How do we disrupt?
- What works?
- What do we need to do differently?
- How powerful is consumer power?
- Are the links between food waste and climate change understood by the general public?
- How do we raise awareness of the links between climate change and food waste?

To learn more about the Trifocal Project and Dublin's activities in it, please visit the project website at <http://trifocal.eu.com/>.